Iota Theta Zeta, Arkansas State University

Vol. 55, No. 1

Circuit judge to speak at banquet

Brent Davis of Jonesboro, Iota Theta No. 424, circuit judge for the 2nd Judicial District of Arkansas, will be the featured speaker for the 56th annual Founders Day Banquet of Iota Theta Zeta. The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 25, in the Ballroom of the Cooper Alumni Center.

The banquet will highlight a full weekend end of Lambda Chi Alpha activities.

Brother Davis, who just began his second 6-year term as circuit judge, previously served 16 years as prosecuting attorney for the 2nd Judicial District, which includes Craighead and five other counties of Northeast Arkansas. During his tenure he successfully prosecuted to a jury verdict more than 130 homicide cases, including three death verdict cases.

He graduated from Jonesboro High School in 1974, then earned a bachelor of science degree in political science at Arkansas State University in 1978 and a law degree from the University of Arkansas (Fayetteville) in 1981.

He then practiced law in Jonesboro and became a partner in the firm of Henry, Walden and Davis, also serving for a time as deputy prosecutor for Craighead County before running for and winning the prosecutor's office in 1992. He is a past president of the Arkansas Prosecuting Attorneys Association.

At ASU he pledged Lambda Chi Alpha and was initiated in January 1975. Although age 59, he claimed still to be able to recite the 12 ideals and the Greek alphabet.

He is married to Terry (King) Davis, who was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at ASU.

In his spare time he enjoys fishing, turkey hunting, bow hunting, reading and spectator sports.

This will be the first Founders Day banquet held in the Cooper Center, which was completed in 2008. It's a multi-purpose facility covering about 20,000 square feet and stands on the site where many alumni will remember the "old pavilion" was. A new pavilion is

High Alpha's report

"Ever growing" is a phrase we are all familiar with and is also the best way I can describe the current state of our chapter here at Arkansas State University. From my freshman year in 2011 to my senior year here in 2015, the amount of growth I've seen in our chapter is unreal. The house itself is in the best shape I have seen it. Whether it be the outside on the lawn and bushes or inside with our newly installed floor in our meeting room, it always seems to be improving in some form or fashion. The growth is not just structural or in number, but internal as well. If I hadn't been given a bid here, I'm not sure where I'd be with myself today. I cannot say enough of how much this place has given to me as a man. The life lessons and maturity I have gained here are priceless, and I cannot wait to pass these on to undergraduates when I become an alumnus.

My time as president has been the most influential and life-changing experience. I would have never thought this office could give so much to me. The office has not been a cake walk, but I feel like I am a better man because of the experience. This fall we initiated 16 great men into our fraternity and added them to our brotherhood. I can assure you that these men are of the highest quality and were selected through a rigorous bid session. The overall GPA for this class was a 3.1, and the ACT average was 28. As for the chapter, the overall GPA was a 3.01, and the officers' cumulative GPA was a 3.4.

The chapter has achieved many things this past year. To begin with, the associate class won our eighth straight Best Men on Campus award this fall! The chapter this year was able to gather up 25,000 pounds of canned food for Feeding America (our national philanthropy) and raised an additional $9,000 in proceeds for Feeding America as well. For each dollar we raise, 10 pounds of food are donated. As a chapter, we placed in the top eight chapters in the nation for total amount of food raised for Feeding America and have been recognized by our very own International Headquarters!

One of our very own members, Carter Lee, served on the International Ritual Team and was our first participant in a number of decades. He also now serves on the International Committee on Emblems and Rituals. We continue to remain a strong presence within Greek life, and we have brothers involved in nearly every area on campus. We currently have two brothers who serve within the Student Government Association, two officers on IFC (including president!), and three officers on the St. Jude Executive Council! We have brothers who serve in many different officer positions throughout campus, and one brother, Caleb Garrett, even co-founded the Special Olympics College here at the university — the first chapter of this organization in the state.

We have had consecutive successful visits from our educational leader consultant in which we have met the 12 operation standards. This elevates us to receive new programming and become part of a select few chapters to receive this programming nationally. The chapter officers also received the highest ratings from the ELC visit that we've ever had with more than five of the 13 getting an Excellent rating, the highest possible. We also had our second annual White Rose Formal in Nashville at The Grand Opry Hotel and downtown Nashville. We had a very successful trip!

As we as a chapter continue this semester, we are reminded just what kind of a brotherhood we have here and what a special bond we share. The possibilities are endless and "ever growing" for us here at Iota Theta Zeta. The sky is the limit for what we can do as a chapter and for the community! I can only see the fraternity advancing and operating at an even higher level in the future. The future is bright here at Iota Theta, and we will continue to be a light for this campus for years to come.

Peter Hasik #1366

across the lake.

Of special interest to visiting alumni at the Cooper Center is a history room, which is filled with photos, yearbooks and other memorabilia.

Other Saturday activities will include a members-alumni golf tournament, starting at 10:30 a.m. at the Sage Meadows Country Club, and the annual meeting of the house corporation-alumni association, LXA at ASU Inc., at 3 p.m. at the fraternity house.

Other events for the weekend will be announced in the near future.

During the annual meeting corporation members will be asked to elect six board members to 2-year term. Current directors whose terms are ending include President Jim Stearns, Vice President for Fund Raising Barry Forrest, Secretary Pete Murphy and Chris West. David Merrell recently resigned from the board because of a job conflict, and his position will be filled.

Corporate Treasurer Roy Ockert and Forrest will also discuss the High Five for Lambda Chi Apha capital campaign, which started five years ago and is now winding down. It has resulted in some $200,000 in repairs and renovations to the house.

A form on page 7 of this newsletter can be used to pay dues, make contributions and register for Founders Day.

Jeff, Lisa Simmons endow scholarships

Jeff and Lisa Simmons, longtime supporters of Arkansas State University and owners of a couple of local businesses, have endowed two scholarships to the College of Business and the College of Fine Arts.

The two scholarships, known as the Simmons Family Scholarship and the Simmons Family Endowed Scholarship, combine to total $30,000 that will provide an annual award based on endowment earnings each year. It will rotate annually between the Accounting Department and the choral music section headed by Dr. Dale Miller.

Upon the retirement of Miller from Arkansas State, the scholarship is designated entirely for the Accounting Department.

Jeff and Lisa own Crown Trophy, a local store specializing in promotional products, specialty items, trophies, plaques, medals and other awards. Jeff, Iota Theta No. 703, is a member of the Board of Directors of LXA at ASU Inc.

Criteria for the College of Business Accounting scholarship include being a fulltime student in good standing, a junior or senior level student, must have a grade point average of 2.5 or better and must be an accounting major in the College of Business.

For the Fine Arts Choral scholarship, a recipient must adhere to the same criteria. In addition, the award goes to a non-music major who performs in the chamber choir or in any chorus for Arkansas State.

40 take part in Old-Timers Reunion

Forty alumni of Iota Theta Zeta at Arkansas State University participated in an "Old-Timers Reunion" at Heber Springs Sept. 26-28, 2014.

The "old-timers" attending were among the first 300 men initiated into the chapter. Those taking part ranged from Zeta No. 1 Jim Wimberly to Zeta No. 282 Bill Phillips. Brothers with zeta numbers up to 400 were invited.

Jeff Clayton, Iota Theta No. 610, attended as a representative of the house corporation, Lambda Chi Alpha at ASU Inc.

Counting spouses, 70 people participated. The Red Apple Inn on Eden Isle served as reunion headquarters.

The weekend began with a Friday night seafood buffet at the Cafe Klasser, just east of Heber Springs and on the Red River. Fifty people attended.

A 3-person scramble golf tournament was held Saturday morning on the Red Apple golf course, with four teams competing. It was won by a team comprised by Jim Goad (No. 196), Eddie French (No. 61) and Bill Phillips, and they were presented with trophies. Brother French also won a gift certificate for the closest tee shot to the No. 2 green — four feet, three inches.

Highlight of the weekend was a Saturday night banquet and reception at the Red Apple Inn.

During the reception Roy Ockert (No. 203) explained that the idea for a reunion of his pledge class may have started in 2011, when Brother Goad invited pledge brothers Ockert and Elbert Frazier (No. 195) to a family reunion in Imboden. Another pledge brother, Paul Madden (No. 201), was to be there, and the mini-reunion lasted well into the evening.

Among the many things discussed was the possibility of having a reunion for the pledge class of spring 1964.

"Later we discussed the possibility with other brothers, and there seemed to be enough support to do it. But time passed, and unfortunately we got word in April of Paul's sudden death from a recurrence of cancer complicated by pneumonia. From there I was determined to make it happen, even though we would be missing Paul."

This is the 50-year anniversary of the pledge class' initiation, and the reunion was expanded to invite everyone with zeta numbers up to 300, then to 400

Those in the 300-400 range apparently didn't consider themselves old-timers. Only one signed up, then pulled out before completing registration.

A memorial service Sunday morning concluded the reunion, honoring brothers who have died. Brother Bob Harrelson (No. 119) presented an inspirational message and read a poem he had written especially for the occasion.

The names of deceased brothers up to zeta number 400 were read by Brothers Charlie Crow (No. 81), Charles Long (No. 20), Warren Dupwe (No. 139) and John Phelps (No. 245). The list had 71 names.

Stay in touch

Lambda Chi Alpha at ASU is maintaining a Web site which serves both the active chapter and alumni. It includes a means by which alumni can update their contact information and find other brothers, but we need your help. We can only include brothers for whom we have a valid e-mail address. At present we have about 720, some out of date.

Please go to the Web site (www.asulxa.com) and see if you're listed. If so, you should register and update your contact information. If not, contact me at the e-mail address below, and you will be added. Once you're registered, please look for other missing brothers for whom you may have helpful information, and forward to me.

The Web site has the capability to form groups within the full data base, such as a certain pledge or associate class or just the alumni who live in a certain area.

Meanwhile, our old alumni Web site, created in connection with the 50th annual Founders Day celebration, remains active: <http://sites.google.com/site/iotatheta50>.

You can also find us on Facebook. Just look for Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University. If you're already in Facebook, just send a request to join to one of the brothers listed as administrators.

Meanwhile, use the dues form to update us on address changes.
