Iota-Theta Zeta, Arkansas State University

Vol. 58, No. 1

Retired colonel to address zeta

BY ROY OCKERT JR. #203
Treasurer, LXA at ASU Inc.

Mike Moody, Iota Theta No. 497, who had a distinguished career in the U.S. Army, will be the featured speaker for the 58th annual Iota-Theta Zeta Founders Day banquet on Saturday, April 22. The event will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Cooper Alumni Center on the Arkansas State University campus.

Brother Moody is senior vice president of the Training System Services Business Unit for System Studies & Simulation Inc., also known as S3, a company that provides technical products and services to the U.S. Department of Defense and other federal agencies.

He served in the Army for 26 years with a variety of command and staff positions in the United States as well as tours of duty in Alaska, Korea, Germany and Washington, D.C. Promoted to colonel in 2001, he was commander of the Aviation Brigade, 4th Infantry Division, during Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2003-04. In Operation Red Dawn, conducted on Dec. 13, 2003, the division, in coordination with a special operations unit, captured Saddam Hussein, the former president of Iraq. His division's role that night at Tikrit was to set an outer perimeter with attack helicopters.

Brother Moody joined S3 in August 2006 as senior program manager of the Aviation Directorate in Washington, D.C. In 2009 he relocated his family to Huntsville, Ala., where he received various leadership assignments before being promoted to his present position in 2011. He leads more than 200 employees in the business unit in designing, validating and executing technical training and support activities, primarily in aviation.

Though born in Germany the son of a career military officer, he attended Jonesboro High School, then graduated in 1980 from Arkansas State University with a degree in personnel management. He was the Distinguished Military Graduate that year and was branched an infantry officer, later transferred into aviation. He earned a master's degree from the National Defense University in Washington, D.C.

Raising funds for St. Jude

Iota-Theta members were instrumental in this year's ASU St. Jude Up 'til Dawn fund-raising effort, which raised a total of $73,271 for the children's hospital. Caleb Strain (left) served as executive director of the ASU board, and Robert Morris (right) was a director. Landen Crancer (center) received the Danny Thomas Award, the fourth consecutive member of the chapter to do so. Of the total, Iota-Theta raised more than $5,500. Not shown: Bryce Denker was sponsorship chairman, and Evan Caddy was logistics director.

During the banquet chapter officers for 2017-18 will be installed, and several annual awards will be presented.

The Founders Day weekend will give visiting alumni a chance to preview next year's ASU football team. The Red Wolves will have their spring scrimmage at 6 p.m. Friday, and the brothers will meet at the house at 5:30, then sit in a group at Centennial Bank Stadium. A drop-in will be held at the fraternity house from 8-10 p.m., and it's possible a card game will break out.

However, alumni are asked to observe the chapter's current "no alcohol" restriction.

Saturday will begin with a golf tournament for alumni and actives at Sage Meadows Country Club. Those entering will be scrambled into 4-person teams. Tee time will be at 8:30 a.m.

Reservations are necessary for the banquet and golf tournament by April 17. Use the form on page 7.

Brother Bill Garrison, Iota Theta No. 257, is also organizing some events for his 1967 pledge class, known as the "Dirty Dozen." All alumni and their guests who aren't playing golf are welcome to join in a campus tour at 10 a.m. Saturday. There is no charge, but a head count is needed so sign up on the Dues Form.

The annual meeting of our house corporation, LXA at ASU Inc., will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the George Spasyk Alumni Room. The agenda includes a chapter update and election of six board members. Nominated for re-election to 2-year terms are Pete Murphy, Chris West, Bill Garrison, Brent Davis, Michael Creason and Barry Forrest.

Chapter church will conclude the weekend. The active brothers will attend the 11 o'clock service at First United Methodist Church, 801 South Main St. Alumni and guests are welcome to join the group.

High Pi's report

BY JEFF SIMMONS #703 High Pi-elect

Stronger than ever ... after a brief hiccup I believe Iota-Theta's future is bright. Although our chapter has been in suspended operations, limited operations and now back to normal operations we are stronger than ever.

I had decided to step off the board of LXA at ASU Inc. to become High Pi to the active chapter. Approximately two weeks after my decision to move in this direction came the news that we were under investigation for hazing of our associate members. An investigation by the Arkansas State University Office of Student Affairs and Lambda Chi Alpha International headquarters would usually be a blow from which many chapters would not come out on the other side of in better shape, but we are the exception to the rule.

I had the honor of getting to know our associates throughout the interviews conducted by the Department of Student Conduct. These 20 hours of interviews gave me a view into the active chapter as well as the recruitment process, and it is a positive view. Our associates will be the future of our chapter as a class of 36 associates have stayed together even in the face of disciplinary action by ASU and IHQ. These associates have still not been initiated but yet to a man are still wanting to be Lambda Chi's.

With every associate still active and awaiting initiation, this is a tribute to the actives and officers who were involved their growth. Although some actions of the actives are inexcusable, it does not dilute the fact that they are the reason the associates are still involved. The officers of the fraternity are strong and should be commended in using their strengths to betterment of our fraternity and keeping all brothers fully engaged in Iota Theta. Keeping all engaged and looking at the finish line is not an easy feat, but the officers have come together, faced our trials

High Alpha's report

BY PATRICK J. DIETZ #1414
High Alpha, 2016-17

All my life, people have been asking me to believe in things. They asked me to believe in family, humanity, love, myself. I believe in a lot of things, but perhaps one of the things that I believe in most is Iota-Theta Zeta. Don't get me wrong. We all believe in Lambda Chi Alpha, but I believe in our chapter now more than ever.

I was initiated in the fall of 2013, and since then I have watched our chapter change. We have experienced scholastic growth throughout our membership and academic support systems. Our chapter achieved a 3.08 cumulative chapter grade average for the fall of 2016, placed second in academics among the other nine fraternities on campus and exceeded the A-State all-men's average GPA of 2.82.

We have succeeded in chapter growth and the betterment of our recruitment strategies. Our chapter received praise from the General Fraternity for exceeding the national goal of Lambda Chi Alpha's Recruitment Challenge, and we were listed as one of 16 chapters that fulfilled this goal.

This scholastic year Iota-Theta has experienced the highest retention rate of associate members since I have been part of the active chapter by retaining 80 percent of our 46 associate members. We have improved our community service and overall engagement in philanthropic efforts and events as well. Iota-Theta raised more than $22,000 for our own philanthropy events alone this past semester along with 30,050 pounds of food for the Food Bank of Northeast Arkansas and $5,500 while participating in St. Jude's Up 'til Dawn event during the spring.

While our chapter does focus on the importance of organized philanthropy events, we also believe that in order to strive for true service and stewardship, we must include more hands on, service oriented activities as well. Under the guidance of Brother Robert Morris, the High Theta, our chapter members have successfully completed more than 500 hours of volunteer work so far during this academic year.

Overall, chapter operations have continued to improve since my time in the chapter as well. Iota-Theta met all 11 of the chapter operating standards placed by the General Fraternity for both fall 2016 and spring 2017 already, and our officers have been working hard to complete applications for national awards and Greek awards under the supervision and encouragement of our educational leadership consultant (ELC).

Perhaps the most impressive and important change that I have witnessed during my time as an active member is the growth of our brotherly bonds. Throughout all of my years here as a Lambda Chi, our chapter has prided itself on having a strong brotherhood. That pride stands even stronger today. During this year's ups and downs, the brothers of Iota Theta, undergraduate and alumnus alike, have leaned on one another, bonded through times of tribulation, and celebrated successes together along the way. I have thoroughly enjoyed watching our members support and push each other to be better men. Throughout all of my experiences I have learned this single truth: There is not a single thing that mankind cannot learn from. We all fall to error one way or another, but Iota Theta knows better than most that one failure is never the same as defeat.

I am certain that the formation of our Alumni Advisory Board will help the chapter reach even greater heights, and I cannot thank our alumni volunteers enough for taking on this newer individualized advising system. As our chapter continues to grow and change, alumni support and wisdom is of great importance. The men of Lambda Chi Alpha have stood strong on A-State's campus for 58 good years, and I promise you that Iota Theta will stand strong tomorrow.

head on and should be held in esteem for leading through these troubling times.

Silver linings are sometimes hard to find when you are in the midst of the storm, and the help of the alumni who came together when it was bleak is truly another silver lining. We have seen new alumni attending the house corporation meetings, coming to meetings of the actives on Sunday nights and attending the required training for the alumni control board (ACB).

Alumni support is constantly needed, and after time passes and some of the lessons become a distant memory, it will be needed even more. The further we get from the sanctions that were imposed, the more alumni we will need to fill the void and be a resource to the chapter. Please get and stay engaged for the health of our chapter.

And finally it cannot go without saying that many of us were influenced by the High Pi and had Brother Warren Dupwe as our High Pi. Brother Dupwe served for more than 25 years as the High Pi to Iota Theta, and if I only have half the influence and wisdom Brother Dupwe had, our chapter will be that much better. Thank you, Brother Dupwe, for setting the bar high for this office.

Stronger than ever ... is what Iota Theta is and will be with the help of active alumni, strong actives, good officers and associates who through trouble, still want to be Lambda Chi's.

Fall associate class extended

The fall 2016 class of associates for Iota-Theta Zeta surely will set a record for longevity. Originally set for initiation the first week of January, the class was put on hold when operations of the chapter were suspended pending a hazing investigation.

Initiation has now been scheduled tentatively for April 29.

Among the 36 brothers in the class are 23 freshmen, six sophomores and seven juniors. Five of the freshmen had a 4.0 grade average in the fall semester, and 31 of the 36 had 3.0 overall or better. Nine are from Bryant. Seven are majoring in some field of business or economics, and seven are pursuing professional degrees.

High Rho's report

BY LANDEN CRANCER #1465
High Rho, 2016-17

The Iota-Theta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University is as strong as it has ever been. This year has taught us all the value and truth behind our motto, "Naught Without Labor."

The 2016-17 school year sent Iota-Theta soaring to new heights. We kicked off the year honoring veterans with our first annual "Red, White, and Blue BBQ." This event was held to raise money for Retrieving Freedom Inc. to provide a service dog to a U.S. Army veteran in need. The event was an overwhelming success surpassing our goal and raising $5,500.

The following weekend we had the pleasure of welcoming 46 new members into our brotherhood. This was the largest class taken among the nine Interfraternity Council chapters on campus. This group of guys are some of the hardest working and intelligent individuals that we have ever met, and we are proud to call them our brothers.

After recruitment we set our eyes on the next big event. This event just so happened to be the second annual Color Run for the Kids, benefiting Arkansas Children's Hospital. This year we paired up with Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and raised more than $14,000. The event was a huge success due to the hard work and preparation by the brotherhood.

After the Color Run the brothers started focusing on our annual Cream of the Crop competition. This year's competition raised 30,050 pounds of food (enough to fill a tractor-trailer) and more than $3,000 for the Food Bank of Northeast Arkansas. Iota-Theta was awarded second place in the NEA Fill the Food Bank award.

Iota Theta participated in this year's St. Jude Up 'til Dawn event. Up 'til Dawn is a part of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis. This organization challenges students to raise funds for St. Jude throughout the semester. At the end of the semester a finale event is held, in which all the students who raised their money stay up all night for St. Jude. Iota Theta raised more than $5,500 for this event.

The event is put together by an executive board, which consisted of four Lambda Chi Alpha brothers, one being the executive director. These included Caleb Strain, executive director; Evan Caddy, logistics director; Robert Morris, logistics chair; and Bryce Denker, sponsorship chair. Brother Landen Crancer received the Danny Thomas award, the fourth consecutive Iota-Theta member to win this award.

Iota Theta has been very involved on campus this year as well. One hundred percent of the chapter is involved in two or more organizations outside of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Brothers Tristan Adkins, Robert Morris and Landen Crancer serve on Student Government Association as senators. Brothers William Metzger, Robert Morris, Lawson Fincher and Landen Crancer serve as Pack Leaders. Brothers Tyler Stone and Landen Crancer serve together on the Interfraternity Council, and Brother Robert Morris served as 2016-17 Homecoming and Springfest director for the Student Activities Board.

Finally, our High Alpha, Patrick Dietz, has been awarded a Distinguished Service Award and is a finalist for the Wilson Award.

This scholastic year Iota-Theta has collectively raised $22,500 and contributed 30,050 pounds of food to the Food Bank of Northeast Arkansas. As a chapter, we have donated 500-plus community service hours, and we continue to be a positive impact on the community. This year has been great, and I can't wait to see what next year has in store!

Lambda Chi Alpha at ASU is maintaining a Web site which serves both the active chapter and alumni. It includes a means by which alumni can update their contact information and find other brothers, but we need your help. We can only include brothers for whom we have a valid e-mail address. At present we have about 750, some out of date.

Please go to the Web site (www.asulxa.com) and see if you're listed. If so, you should register and update your contact information. If not, contact me at the email address below, and you will be added. Once you're registered, please look for other missing brothers for whom you may have helpful information, and forward to me.

The Web site has the capability to form groups within the full data base, such as a certain pledge or associate class or just the alumni who live in a certain area.

Meanwhile, our old alumni Web site, created in connection with the 50th annual Founders Day celebration, remains somewhat active: <http://sites.google.com/site/iotatheta50>.

You can also find us on Facebook. Just look for Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University. If you're already in Facebook, just send a request to join to one of the brothers listed as administrators.

Meanwhile, use the Dues Form to update us on address changes.
