Vol. 60, No. 1

Four alumni to share podium

BY ROY OCKERT JR.

Iota Theta No. 203

Iota Theta Zeta will celebrate the 60th anniversary of its founding during a full weekend of activities April 5-7.

Traditionally, George Spasyk, the longtime executive of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity who was instrumental in the founding of Iota Theta, has returned for the Founders Day weekend at least every 10 years. But his health will prevent that in 2019.

Instead of George delivering the keynote address at the Founders Day Banquet Saturday, four distinguished alumni of the chapter will speak briefly. They are: Jim Stephens of Gilbert, Ariz., Iota Theta No. 5; Charlie Crow of Little Rock, Iota Theta No. 81; Warren Dupwe of Jonesboro, Iota Theta No. 139; and Tommy Fowler of Jonesboro, Iota Theta No. 808.

The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 6, in the Cooper Alumni Center.

The weekend will get under way Friday, April 5, with the Founders Circle Golf Scramble at Sage Meadows Country Club.

Alumni and actives are invited to enter individually or as pairs. Pairs will compete in a 2-person best ball format, but where possible an alumni team will join with an active team to make a foursome. LXA prizes will be given for the low-scoring alumni team, active team and foursome (with the 2-man team scores' combined).

Entry fee for alumni and guests is $60 per person, which covers the greens fee and shared use of a cart. The house corporation, Lambda Chi Alpha at ASU Inc., will provide a box lunch.

An informal reception, also known as the "War Stories" session, will begin at 7 p.m. Friday in the ballroom at the Hilton Garden Inn, which is the headquarters hotel for the weekend. Hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be available.

The Hilton Garden Inn is offering a special rate for our group — $99 per night for a standard room, $109 for a king suite. Call the hotel direct at (870) 931-7727 and ask for the Lambda Chi rate to make a reservation.

Saturday's activities will begin with the annual meeting of the house corporation at 10 a.m. in the Alumni Room. As usual, six positions on the board will be up for election, but the business to be discussed includes a proposal to split LXA at ASU Inc. into two organizations, one to operate the house and the other to serve as an alumni association.

See page 3 for an explanation and the full proposal.

The chapter will sponsor a crawfish boil at noon at the house, and all alumni and their guests are invited.

Brothers and their guests will begin to gather at the Cooper Alumni Center between 6 and 6:30. The banquet will begin with a buffet dinner. In addition to the alumni speakers, chapter and alumni awards will be presented.

High Pi's report

BY KEVIN MOLDER
High Pi

Our active brothers have proven to be resilient in 2018. They have overcome many challenges in the last two years that most of us did not encounter. Fraternities across the United States have been in the spotlight for various types of misconduct. They have been scrambling to implement policies and procedures to mitigate this type of behavior. Lambda Chi Alpha is not immune to this. Our headquarters and Arkansas State University do an outstanding job at educating our men in minimizing unacceptable conduct. However, it is up to the members of our chapter as to whether they implement these policies and procedures. I am proud to say our Zeta officers and Executive Committee do a great job at following and enforcing the rules.

The chapter was taken off probation at the end of the spring semester of 2018. At the same time we officially made the transition from an Alumni Control Board (ACB) to an Alumni Advisory Board (AAB). Due to the strong leaders and commitment within the chapter, the ACB was no longer needed.

We emerged from probation stronger than ever. The chapter currently has 86 active members — 80 active brothers and six associates. About 30 associates were initiated in the spring and fall semesters of 2018. The overall grade average of the chapter is continuing to rise. We are in the top tier of ASU fraternities overall. The first social event in nearly two years was approved in the fall. The chapter has raised thousands of dollars in 2018 for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Arkansas Children's Hospital and Retrieving Freedom Inc.

Many of our brothers are involved on campus. Campus involvement includes brothers serving on the Student Activities Board, Interfraternity Council, Student Government Association, Honors College Association and Student Philanthropy Council. Throughout the years we have received several awards and accolades that include Best Men on Campus for 10 of the past 11 years, 20 percent of our members earning a 4.0 last fall, and 10 Wilson Award winners. Robert Morris, Iota Theta 1460, was the recipient of the Wilson Award in 2018. Many of you may remember his brother, Earl Morris (Iota Theta 1431), also received the award in 2015.

The Iota Theta Bylaws were amended in 2018 to change the time when the Zeta officers serve out their terms. Prior to the change, officers served from August to May. Now their term is served from January to December. The main reason for this change was to accommodate graduating seniors. The final semester for undergraduates is full of new stressors that include applying and interviewing for a job and locating to a new area to live. By moving the elections, seniors are now able to focus on transitioning out of college without the additional stress of the office they hold.

Alumni support is needed now more than ever so our chapter will continue its current path. I truly believe alumni support is imperative to maintain a strong chapter. I know time and distance is an issue for many of you. However, if you are able, we need your support, so our chapter will continue its current path. The primary function of the Alumni Advisory Board is to mentor the Zeta Officers. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Roy Ockert, Pete Murphy or me.

In closing, I would like to thank all the alumni who have taken time from their busy schedules to come visit, mentor or simply offer encouraging words to the chapter. I would also like to thank the Zeta officers, and the house corporation members for their hard work and commitment. I am very proud of our young brothers for their accomplishments and their commitment to Lambda Chi Alphas core values.

'Divorce' of organization proposed

Lynn Chipperfield, general counsel for Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, conducted a national online seminar for alumni leaders last spring and had some startling advice.

The focus was on the organization and operation of a house corporation, which has changed in the eight years since we overhauled our bylaws and re-incorporated. Litigation is a much greater danger.

Following are some of his recommendations:

- The house corporation should have one purpose — to own and maintain the house.

- Having undergraduates on the HC board exposes it to greater liability if the chapter gets in legal trouble. They can be ex officio members, and key officers at least should be invited to attend board meetings.

- It's essential to keep the HC separate from any other alumni organizations (Advisory Board, Alumni Control Board, Alumni Association) to limit liability.

- It's OK to have some overlap, such as by having the same alumni on more than one board, as long as there is legal separation.

- The High Pi, an elected officer of the chapter, should not be on the HC board.

- Members of the HC should not be specified as "all alumni" or "all active members" because that violates the theory of legal separation. Better that the corporation have no members.

- The HC board should be as small and have as few officers as state laws allow.

- The HC should meet infrequently. Officers and an executive board can make the necessary day-to-day decisions. However, it's OK to tack one meeting onto another. Just keep the discussions and business separate.

- The HC should lease or license the house to the chapter and should not rent or lease rooms directly to actives.

After much discussion and further study, the house corporation board is suggesting that we follow the advice of counsel and reorganize into a legally separate house corporation and alumni association. In February the board voted to submit a proposal for a reorganization structure during the annual meeting of the corporation at Founders Day.

If the proposal is approved, the Board of Directors would work to effect the necessary changes so that the separate organizations would be ready to function on Jan. 1, 2020. New bylaws for each would then be submitted for confirmation at the 2020 Founders Day.

Following is the full proposal that will be introduced for discussion at the annual meeting.

Proposed: LXA at ASU Inc. would be split into two organizations.

The members of Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University Inc., at its annual meeting on this date, hereby authorize the Board of Directors of the corporation to take the legal steps necessary to form two separate legal entities. The present corporation would be dissolved or amended to effect this action.

The Board of Directors has been advised by the counsel for Lambda Chi Alpha International that there is an inherent risk of broad liability with the organizational structure of Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University Inc. That risk can be minimized with separate organizations, even if there is some overlap in leadership.

LXA at ASU Inc. would remain as the house corporation, if that is legally feasible. If not, a new corporation would be formed to take its place. In either case, the only purpose of the corporation would be to serve as owner and operator of the LXA house.

It would be governed by a 9-member Board of Directors, comprised of alumni members of Iota Theta Zeta who do not hold formal office in the Zeta. Each director would serve a 3-year term. Officers, elected annually, would be president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. The four officers would constitute the Executive Committee.

The board would meet in regular session and as needed in special session. A quorum for board action would be five directors.

All meetings of the Board of Directors will be open to alumni and active members of Iota Theta Zeta. Minutes of all board and Executive Committee meetings will be kept and will be available to all alumni and active members of Iota Theta Zeta.

Financial reports will be compiled monthly by the treasurer and will be available to all alumni and active members of Iota Theta Zeta.

An annual report will be presented to attending alumni and members of Iota Theta Zeta during an open meeting of the Board of Directors during Founders Day weekend.

A separate corporation will be formed to serve as the Alumni Association of Iota Theta Zeta. Its purpose would be to raise funds for the house corporation and other needs of Iota Theta Zeta; to plan and sponsor activities for Iota Theta Zeta and its alumni; and to maintain communications with all parties interested in Lambda Chi Alpha at Arkansas State University.

All initiated and associated alumni of Iota Theta Zeta would be members of the corporation.

It would be governed by a 9-member Board of Directors, comprised of alumni members of Iota Theta Zeta who do not hold formal office in the Zeta. Each director would serve a 3-year term. Officers, elected annually, would be president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. The four officers would constitute the Executive Committee.

26-man associate class initiated

BY DAKOTA PIERONI
High Rho

In January Iota Theta initiated 26 new members into our brotherhood. These men have excelled already in many ways, such as helping the school and the chapter whenever they were needed.

Every member of the associate class joined at least two campus organizations, and the entire class joined St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, a campaign that raises money for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital for children diagnosed with cancer. The Associate Class of Fall 2018 strived to push each other in making their grades, growing closer personally as a class and putting their best efforts into philanthropy events. Several of the new members of Iota Theta have already taken on leadership in high and low zeta officer positions.

Following are the initiates of the Fall 2018 class in order based on zeta numbers.

- 1547 — Scott Ashcraft of Benton, an exercise science major, member of the Honors College, Honors College Ambassador, Student Activities Board committee member.

- 1548 — Giacomo Barnello of Cabot, a finance major, Phi Beta Lambda Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1549 — Kennedy Brown of Jonesboro, a mechanical engineering major, ROTC, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1550 — Jett Carlock of Blytheville, a business administration and marketing major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, Arkansas State Republicans.

- 1551 — Cody Cockrell, Hot Springs, a nursing major, Nursing Service Organization, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1552 — Clark Denison of Benton, a business major, Student Activities Board, Phi Beta Lambda Association.

- 1553 — Cole Duncan of Batesville, a biology major, Student Activities Board, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1554 — Drew Griebel of Cabot, a finance major, Phi Beta Lambda Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1555 — Brice Hoffman of White Hall, a finance major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1556 — Seth Ishmael of Jonesboro, undecided major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, Ducks Unlimited Association.

- 1557 — Owen Leibel of Jackson, Mo., a nursing major, Pack Leader, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1558 — Gage Lester of Bryant, a supply chain management major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1559 — Nick Mesa of Rector, an agricultural education major, A-State Republicans, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1560 — Logan Morris of Wynne, a political science major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, American Fisheries Society.

- 1561 — Tanner Mote of Jonesboro, a history major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, Phi Beta Lambda Association.

- 1562 — Will Mott of Tyrone, agricultural business major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, Volunteer A-State.

- 1563 — Justin Nabors of Cabot, an education major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1564 — Dakota Pieroni of Cabot, a biology major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, Volunteer A-State.

- 1565 — Cazzie Pringle of Bryant, a sports management major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1566 — Alex Robles of De Queen, an international business major, Phi Beta Lambda Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1567 — Colin Schlitt of Jackson, Mo., a business economics major, Phi Beta Lambda Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1568 — Will Scobey of Corning, an economics major, Honors College Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1569 — Nick Smith of Bryant, a physical education major, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn, A-State College of Republicans.

- 1570 — Trace Sparkman of Cabot, an accounting major, Phi Beta Lambda Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1571 — Jack Teague of Cabot, an agricultural business major, Ducks Unlimited Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

- 1572 — Ryan Travis of Cabot, undecided major, Special Olympics Volunteer Association, St. Jude Up 'til Dawn.

New bylaws for each organization will be prepared for confirmation at the first annual meeting of 2020. Proposed bylaws will be distributed to all alumni and active members at least 30 days in advance of that meeting.

High Alpha's report

BY AARON ORENDER
High Alpha

During my time here the Lambda Chi Alpha Iota Theta Zeta has always been a chapter that has strived for success year in and year out. As a Lambda Chi, I have learned what becoming a man is truly about. You do not only embrace the success in life, but you must also learn how to embrace the failures. You must learn how to overcome those failures and persevere through the times of trouble.

I am proud to say our chapter has done that. After coming off a year and a half probation period, nobody was sure what to expect. Would the chapter be able to recover and be back on the right track? In time we found that the answer to that question would be a resounding yes. After completing our probation, the chapter has accomplished so much in terms of philanthropy, athletics and even chapter size.

The first philanthropy of the year was the Red, White and Blue BBQ. This was a huge success with the chapter raising just over $7,400 for Retrieving Freedom. This was the most recorded since we began the event three years ago.

The second event was the Glow Run. This event was similar to the Color Run we had done in years past. Although it was the same concept, rain forced the chapter to push the event inside. The chapter was able to change the destination of the event and change almost every detail of planning with only a day's notice. The event still raised a little over $5,200. All of the profits were donated to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

Our final philanthropy event of the semester was our annual Greek Goddess event. This week-long event requires sororities to compete by raising cans. The final day consists of all five sororities competing in a pageant and the final tally of points and cans. The event raised more than 51,000 meals right before the holiday season. It was so successful that a local TV station interviewed a couple members for its broadcast.

The chapter has also been very involved on Arkansas State's campus. Our leadership doesn't stop with the fraternity. Many members hold leadership positions in various clubs around campus.

Landen Crancer, a former Interfraternity Council president, is currently the Student Activities Board president. Noah Ford was a member of IFC last semester, and he led the Judicial Affairs branch of IFC as well. Will Wilkins is the current IFC vice president of membership development. He is also an Arkansas State Pack Leader, along with Owen Leible and me. Caleb Freeman is another IFC officer, serving as VP of scholarship. Joseph DaVault serves

From the House Corp. president

BY PETE MURPHY
President, LXA at ASU Inc.

Our 60th Founders Day is now upon us. I am grateful for the vision that our founders had so many years ago. Could they even imagine what our chapter would look like? Would they know how many young men's lives have been affected through the years? If you want to know the answer to these and other questions, you'll have the opportunity to ask some of them the weekend of April 5-7.

One question I'll be asking is: Did they ever think we would have the best chapter house on the campus of ASU. Our house is still something to be proud of even though it shows the wear and tear of 33 years. That's why we continue to need financial help from alumni like you. Through the ongoing collection of rent and the generosity over the years of a portion of our alumni, we have our mortgage loan down to $77K. That is a reduction of almost $25K in the past year alone. On our current trajectory we will have our mortgage paid off in approximately three more years!

The downside of a 33-year-old house is the constant maintenance issues. More than 800 brothers have been initiated over that time with a good percentage of those being residents at some time or other. In addition to making mortgage payments and paying all the regular monthly bills of the house, we spent almost $14K on maintenance in 2018.

Among the more notable projects; we fixed and replaced washers/dryers, put down new flooring in the entryway and stairs, and fixed a water leak around the slab of the building. When funds become available, we would like replace the floor in the Alumni Room. At some point in the not-to-distant future we'll have to replace an older section of the roof as well.

As president of the house corporation, Lambda Chi Alpha at ASU Inc., I can assure you that we are good stewards of the money we receive. As members of the board, we all make financial contributions to help offset these maintenance costs. I would ask you to consider making a financial contribution as well. You may do so through our Founders Circle Campaign or by paying just $50 annually in alumni dues. We need your support!

I will end by letting you know that International Headquarters of LXA has requested that we separate our house corporation from the alumni advisory organization that we carry on simultaneously. For liability reasons it's a good idea. We need clear boundaries between the house corporation and the alumni advisory boards. The problem is that it would require more local (nearby) alumni involvement.

Would you please consider giving an hour or two of your time monthly to get involved in one of these two boards? There is a place for you, and nobody cares if you've been out of touch. You have the opportunity to have an impact in the lives of young men now and in the future much like our founders did.

I can tell you with certainty my life would not have turned out the way it has without the relationships I made through this fraternity, and I would imagine you could say the same thing. Please find a way to give back so that in another 60 years Iota Theta will be as great as it ever was.

on the Student Senate. Many other members are involved in many clubs around campus as well.

Even the intramurals have been largely successful over the past year. Lambda Chi was able to win three out of the four intramural sports last semester. This included an undefeated season in softball and a second straight softball championship. For the third year in a row Lambda Chi was the outdoor soccer champions. And for the first time in years Lambda Chi was able to bring home the outdoor football trophy with a last-minute win.

Another success for the chapter was recruitment and retention. We hosted two successful rush events over the summer and had very good turnouts. We had 33 guys accept bids, which dwindled down to 25 guys who got initiated. Over spring rush we were able to get six guys. This puts us at 80 initiated brothers and six associates.

After our first full semester off probation, the chapter has proved to me and hopefully to everyone else how much potential and promise we truly have. Lee Sullivan, our former president, led us through that first uncertain semester. He did what he needed to do in order to overcome the difficulties placed before him. He went above and beyond his responsibilities to ensure the safety and success of the fraternity. Almost halfway through my first semester as president, the chapter has proven itself more than capable of exceeding all expectations. I am excited to lead this group of men to further success.

minister, will preside over an Omega Service at the fraternity house. Deceased brothers of Iota Theta will be memorialized after a continental breakfast.

The dues form printed on page 7 can be used to sign up for Founders Day events. However, our new Web site portal, which is now being used to send email messages, also provides a secure means of paying dues, making contributions and registering for the golf tournament and banquet with a credit card.

You will need to register, though, to get to those functions. Directions were provided in a recent email, and more than 100 alumni have responded.

Start the registration process at www.asulxa.com. Open the Alumni tab in the menu near the top of the page and slide down to Stay Current. There you will find joining instructions if you haven't already registered. You must use the email address that we have on record for you as your login, and you will need to set a new password. If you're not sure what email address we have for you, send a query to royo@suddenlink.net.

Once registered, you can click on the Events tab to sign up for and pay banquet and golf fees. To pay alumni dues, make contributions or join the Founders Circle, click the Donations tab, then choose Projects & Campaigns from the menu at the top of the page. Keep in mind that each level of the Founders Circle covers alumni dues.

There is a 3.5 percent fee on each credit card transaction.

Stay in touch

LXA at ASU maintains a Web site to serve both the active chapter and alumni. It includes a means by which alumni can update their contact information and find other brothers. We can only include brothers for whom we have a valid e-mail address. At present we have about 800, some out of date.

Please go to the Web site (www.asulxa.com) and see if you're listed. If so, you should register and update your contact information. If not, contact me at the email address below, and you will be added. Once you're registered, please look for other missing brothers for whom you may have helpful information, and forward to me.

The Web site has the capability to form groups within the full data base, such as a certain pledge or associate class or just the alumni who live in a certain area.
